

The background is a dense, abstract composition of overlapping brushstrokes in various colors including purple, blue, green, yellow, and red. The strokes are expressive and somewhat chaotic, creating a textured, layered effect. In the center, there is a faint, sketchy drawing of a human face, rendered in brown and orange tones, which appears to be partially obscured or integrated into the colorful background.

Creation is Always
Happening